There are plenty of reasons to love May. It is the unofficial start to summer, flowers are blooming, and the sun is definitely warming. May celebrates many special days dedicated to honoring and recognizing the efforts of many. Starting with Mother's Day, which is celebrated on the second Sunday of May. On this day, we recognize the most important women in our lives. To all our BI moms, we admire your strength, kindness, and compassion. We had some of the kiddos do some arts and crafts and loved seeing some of the reactions of our moms on our social media.

Flash forward to the last Monday of May, where we honor the men and women who have died while serving in the U.S. military. To those who serve or have served, we thank you for your ultimate sacrifice, your valor, and your service to preserve and protect this country. It is because of all of those that do and have served, that we are able to enjoy our freedom. The Friday before Memorial Day, we hosted a Memorial Day Event for the kiddos to enjoy. Safe to say our kiddos had a blast. Below are some of our favorite moments.

BI Superstar of the month

Christian M.

Christian has made great progress in giving eye contact when his name is called. He is doing a great job following one-step instructions like "sit down" and "stand up". He is doing an amazing job independently manding for preferred items by pointing. He is also doing awesome by manding in approximations and full words! He has made some outstanding strides and we are all so proud of all he has achieved in such a short time! Keep up the great work!

Karlis F.

Karlis has been acquiring skills at a very high rate. He has been using polite phrases to request or remove a preferred item. Karlis has also reached mastery criteria for multiple behaviors, which have been replaced by functional skills. We are very proud of his improvement!

ATTENTION PARENTS!

Summer is here and so is the rain! We recommend you bring your kiddos raincoats and rain boots for the rainy days ahead of us.
